Deep inside a beautiful green bamboo forest, there lived a little panda named Bobo.

Bobo lived with his mother, father, and his two little sisters in a cozy wooden house beside the bamboo trees.

Every day, the family laughed, played, and shared happy moments together.

“Good morning, sunshine!”
Bobo said with a smile.

Today is a great day for adventures!

Forest Tales

Bobo loved doing morning exercises.

He lifted his arms up high.

One, two, three!

Then he hopped, stretched, and wiggled his little feet.

Father Panda smiled.

You are getting strong, Bobo!

After exercising, Bobo went to the bathroom.

He washed his face with cool water.

Splash!
Splash!

Then he brushed his teeth carefully.

"Brush, brush, brush,"
Bobo sang.

Mother Panda peeked in.

"Very clean teeth!"
she said proudly.

Good morning, Mom!
Good morning, Dad!

Good morning,
Bobo!

Good morning,
Bobo!

I made warm bamboo pancakes and sweet fruit!

Lily making a funny face!

Hahaha!

Look at me!

Everyone burst into laughter.

Bobo, did you finish your homework?

Yes, Mom!
I finished all of it yesterday.

Well done, Bobo!

HAPPY FAMILY

After breakfast,
Bobo cleaned his plate.

Then he hurried to his room.

He opened his closet and picked his favorite blue shirt and tiny backpack.

Bobo walked along the forest path toward school.

The morning sun shined through the tall trees.

Butterflies danced in the air.

Bobo hummed a happy song while walking.

Good morning,
Benny!

Hi, Bobo!

Wait for me!

The three friends walked together happily.

I love going to school," said Rosie.

"Me too," said Benny.
"We learn so many interesting things."

And we get to see our friends every day!" said Bobo.

I like drawing," said Rosie.

I like
"reading stories," Benny shared.

My favorite is science!"

"Why do you like science?"
Rosie asked.

"Because we learn how plants grow and how animals live!"
Bobo answered excitedly.

"That sounds fun!"
Benny said.

Soon, they reached the little forest school.

The school had colorful flowers outside and a tiny bell by the door.

“Ring! Ring!”

Good morning,
students!

"Good morning,
"Teacher Owl!"
the class answered together.

"Today we will learn about teamwork."

Teacher Owl divided the class into groups.

“Work together to build something with blocks,”
she explained.

Bobo, Benny, and Rosie worked on the same team.

“Work together to build something with blocks,”
she explained.

“Let’s build a treehouse!”
Bobo suggested.

Benny stacked the big blocks carefully.

Rosie added tiny colorful blocks.

Bobo helped balance the roof.

"Oh no!"
Benny cried as one block slipped.

"What should we do now?"
Rosie looked worried.

"It's okay.
Let's try again together."
Bobo smiled gently.

"That is wonderful teamwork, Bobo."
Teacher Owl nodded proudly.

The friends worked slowly and carefully.

This time, they helped each other even more.

Soon, the treehouse
stood tall and strong.

"We did it!"
Rosie cheered.

Everyone clapped happily.

FOREST

Bobo opened his lunchbox.
"Mom packed bamboo sandwiches!"
he said.

"Yummy!"
Benny smiled.

Rosie shared crunchy carrots with everyone.

LUNCHTIME IS BETTER TOGETHER!

After lunch, Teacher Owl read
a story to the class.

The students listened quietly.

Bobo loved hearing adventure stories.

“And so, the little explorer crossed the wobbly bridge and discovered a hidden waterfall!”

“I want to read more books at home,” he whispered.

Soon, the school day was over.

"See you tomorrow!"

Bye, friends!

FOREST SCHOOL

The friends waved happily.

Bobo walked home through the peaceful forest.

That night, the family sat together after dinner.

"We are proud of you, Bobo." said Father Panda.

"I love my family, my friends, and my school." Bobo smiled sleepily.

Mother Panda kissed his forehead.

The End

As the stars twinkled outside, Bobo closed his eyes and dreamed of another happy day ahead.
